Generative Engine Optimization Explained.

GEO improves how a brand can be found, described and cited in AI-generated answers. It complements SEO.

GOOGLE WEB RESULTS

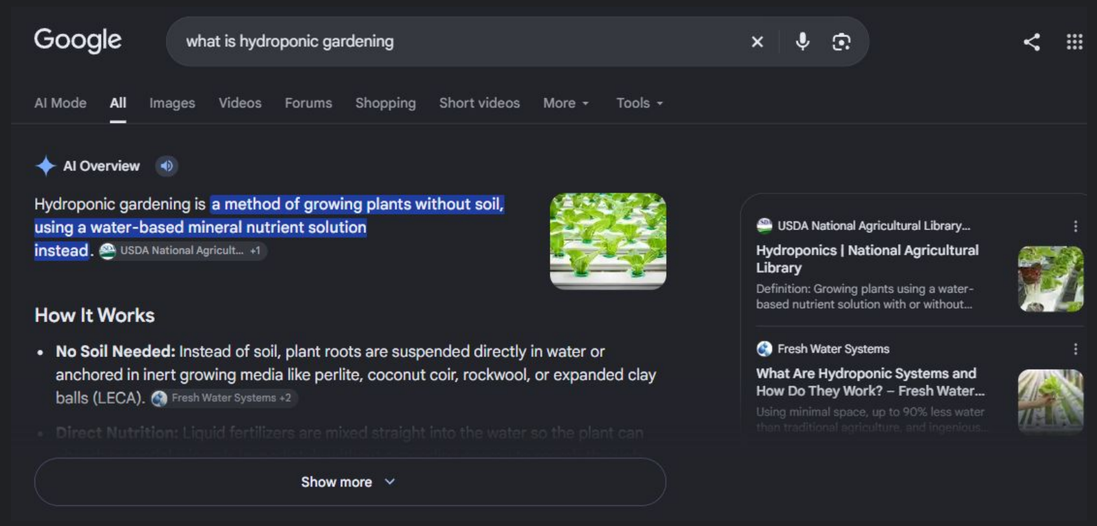

A list of pages to explore.

People open individual pages and compare information themselves.

GOOGLE AI OVERVIEW

An answer with linked sources.

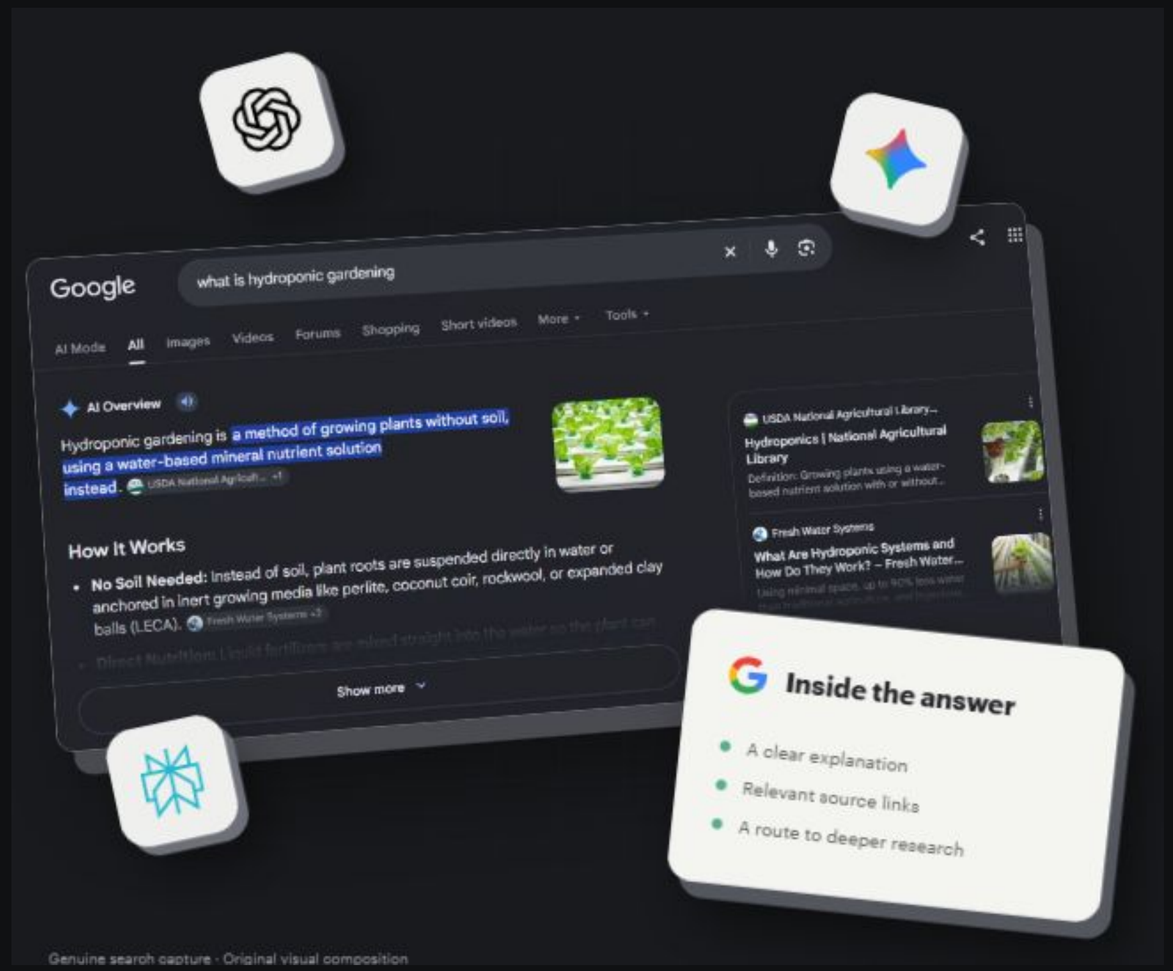

Google brings an explanation and supporting sources into the search page itself.

Real captures of the same query, 30 October 2026. These examples explain search formats; they are not Pixel Growers client results.

Generative AI SEO. Business relevance.

Your next customer may start with a question instead of a website visit. Here is where we focus the work.

Original visual composition built around a genuine Google search capture. No fabricated citation totals.

01 Enter the consideration set.

Useful, well-supported content gives buyers something concrete to discover when they ask AI for advice or compare their options.

Buyer questions + useful source pages

02 Make your expertise clear.

Consistent brand facts, named experts and verifiable claims help people understand what you offer and why it is relevant.

Content clarity + credible information

03 Connect discovery to action.

Give interested visitors a page that answers the next question, then review identifiable referrals and meaningful on-site actions.

Source pages + a useful next step

GEO Measurement Framework.

A baseline comes before any percentage increase. This is the framework we would use for a new engagement.

AI discovery record

REPORT TEMPLATE

Question	Brand named?	Page cited?	Evidence
Comparison prompt	To establish	To establish	Capture required
Product-fit prompt	To establish	To establish	Capture required
Buying question	To establish	To establish	Capture required

Prompt set, platform, capture date and source URL recorded on each run.

01 Accurate mentions

Is the brand named and described correctly?

02 Traceable citations

Save the question, platform, date and cited URL.

03 Useful visits

Review identifiable AI referrals and on-site actions.

AI responses can vary by question, date, product version, location and account context. A single answer is not a universal ranking.

This is a reporting template. The fields are intentionally left for real observations from an agreed engagement.
